Seesmart specializes in the design and manufacture of LED products for general illumination in commercial spaces. Our products use less than half of the energy required by traditional lighting products and last years longer. They come in four color temperatures ranging from warm white to cool white to create the perfect ambiance. And unlike traditional lighting products, Seesmart's LED lamps don't buzz, flicker, or take minutes to warm up.

Seesmart's product line is so vast that we are often a one-stop lighting shop for both new constructions and retrofits. Our LED tube lights, PAR lights, and spotlights can be used in offices, hallways, stairwells, elevators, lobbies, and more. Our high bays are ideal for warehouses. We even offer wall packs and wall washers perfect for illuminating a building's exterior.

Since 2008, Seesmart has been installing its LED products in every type of commercial building imaginable. Our customers have noticed that quality LED lighting can do much more than conserve energy and reduce maintenance costs. After fluorescent tube lights were replaced with Seesmart's LED tube lights at Zyloware Eyeware's corporate headquarters, employees noticed that they experienced less glare and eye strain. In some parts of the Zyloware facility, lighting levels improved by as much as 27 footcandles. At specialty foods manufacturer RC Fine Foods, the warehouse became noticeably cooler and the offices brighter after fluorescent and metal halide products were replaced with Seesmart LED products. The total electrical consumption of the building also dropped by more than 20%. And at Idealease, a commercial truck leasing and logistics company, incidence of migraines dropped off completely after a Seesmart retrofit. Employees also experienced better visual acuity and enjoyed the clean, clear color of the new LEDs. They so enjoyed their new lighting products that they sent letters to ownership expressing their appreciation.

Whether your workplace consists of private offices, cubicles, pallet racks, or poker tables, Seesmart carries lighting solutions that will make your workplace brighter, healthier, and more efficient.
